Luther Gets The Axe

U.S. College Yearbook Includes 24 Seniors

Twenty-four Wartburg seniors have been selected for listing in Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Student election was held Oct. 13, but confirmation from the national headquarters was received just this week, according to Bob Braun, Elections Committee chairman.

To be eligible for Who's Who, a student must have at least a 2.5 grade point for three consecutive semesters and have been an officer of an organization or have lettered in a sport.

Seniors chosen for Who's Who include Mike Becker, Racine, Wis.; Barbara Bose, Dumas, Tex.; Bob Braun, State Center; Cleo Eliason, Green Bay, Wis.; Al Goldammer, Corsica, S. D.; Jim Gronewald, Manchester; Janice Howard, Wyoming, Ill.

David Hutson, Sibley, Ill.; Betty Kalkwarf, Champaign, Ill.; Dave Kildahl, Waverly; Helene Kurtz, West De Pere, Wis.; Judy Lanaghan, Clinton; Douglas Langholz, Rantoul, Ill.; Kathy Lewellan, Cedar Falls; Barbara Matthias, Pomona, Calif.; Garry Medlang, Waverly.

Donna Meyer, Anchor, Ill.; Gwen Parlin, Appleton, Wis.; Arlyn Ristau, Nora Springs; Jerry Schrader, Waverly; Roger Sherman, Nora Springs; Harold Shudlick, Rice Lake, Wis.; John Thalacker, Tripoli; and Paul Zietlow, Waverly.

These students will have their names and a short biographical sketch about them published in the Who's Who college yearbook.

Basie Coming Nov. 19

Count Basie and his orchestra will appear at Wartburg Nov. 19 for the annual Fall Pops Concert. The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium.

Tickets for the concert went on sale last Monday exclusively for Wartburg students. This Monday they will be available to the public at a cost of $2.50 per ticket. No reserved seats will be held.

In addition to his piano and 16-man band, Basie will feature comedian Rusty Ryan.

FEE CONTRACTED for by the Pops Concert Committee for Basie's appearance was set at $2250, according to Roger Prehn, concert co-chairman. Prehn said that the reason for this action was that there was not enough available time for a student vote on the selection.

Except for a period in 1950-51, the piano-playing Basie has led a big band for two and a half decades.

During a tour of England in 1958, he played a Royal Command performance for Queen Elizabeth.

He was also personally invited to play for the Inaugural Ball for President-elect John Kennedy in 1961.

QUALITIES THAT have established Count Basie and his orchestra as international favorites are his simple, swinging, elliptical piano style combined with the driving impetus of his rhythm section.

His concert at Carnegie Hall in 1939 unknowingly marked the trend toward jass concerts.

Educational Commitment Is Theme Of Inauguration

Additional information concerning the inauguration of Dr. John W. Bachman as president of Wartburg College on Nov. 11 was released last week by the various subcommittees of the Central Inauguration Committee.

Registration for official delegates who will be attending the ceremonies will open at 11 a.m. Wednesday. Invitations were sent to all Iowa colleges and universities, all the Lutheran schools in the United States and other selected universities.

Official inauguration ceremonies will begin at 2 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium, according to Dr. James Fritschel, program chairman. The program will stress the academic and the Christian commitments to education.

EACH OF THESE commitments will be represented visually by a banner. The combined commitments will be represented on a medallion. This presidential symbol, along with the banners, will be presented to Dr. Bachman by President Emeritus C. H. Becker.

Dr. Phillip Kildahl, English Department head, will give selected readings illustrating the nature of academic commitment. Dr. John O. Chellevold, dean of faculty, will then introduce Dr. Howard Bowen, president of the State University of Iowa, Iowa City, who will deliver the challenge from the academic world to Dr. Bachman.

Christian commitment will be opened by Pastor Herman Diers, Wartburg chaplain, who will introduce Dr. Herman Siefkes, president of the Iowa District of the American Lutheran Church. Dr. Frederick Schiotz, president of the American Lutheran Church, will deliver the charge from the church.

AN EXPECTED twelve hundred guests will be present at the reception in the Homuth Memorial Library at 4 p.m. following the formal inaugural ceremonies. The reception will be open to all students and guests.

Only formally invited guests will attend the Inaugural Dinner, to be held in the cafeteria of the Student Union. Dr. Walter Voecks, president of the Board of Regents, will preside over the program and will introduce various delegates who bring greetings to Dr. Bachman.

Miller's 'The Crucible' To Open Wed. Night

Wartburg Theatre's presentation of "The Crucible" will open Wednesday evening at 8:30 in the Chapel - auditorium. Other performances will be held at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the coming week.

Wednesday evening's performance is scheduled at 8:30 p.m. to accommodate visitors attending the Fourth R Conference. Last week's Trumpet mistakenly scheduled the play for last week.

JOHN GILL, Speech Department, is directing the play. Darlene Wesenberg is assistant director.

Sophomores Marsha Myers, Jane Koob, Dianne Hoefs, Ron McCollister, Jim Ludwig, Roberta Getzlaff, Allen Lyndrup, Lyle Page, Vicki Van Slyke, and Judy Gannon are also featured in the play. Freshman member of the cast is Bob Szabo.

STAGE MANAGERS for the play are senior Jerry Franzen and Allen Lyndrup. Senior Dick Rollings and sophomore David Ziegler are in charge of lighting.

Gretchen Holsten, freshman, and Jane Koob are taking care of props. Kathy Bishop is in charge of sound.

Costumes and make-up are handled by seniors Carol Arendt and Ruth Ann Murray, and juniors Norma Gray and Ann Wesender.

Suzanne Schroeder, 10-year-old daughter of the William Schroeders, is also a member of the cast. Her father is on the Music Department faculty.

Justice Clark Keynoter For Fourth R Conference

Invitations for Wartburg's interdenominational "Fourth R Conference: Religion and the Public School" have been sent to some 4,500 pastors and school officials throughout the Midwest.

To be held Nov. 4 and 5, the conference will have as its basic issue whether or not religion should be incorporated into the schoolroom.

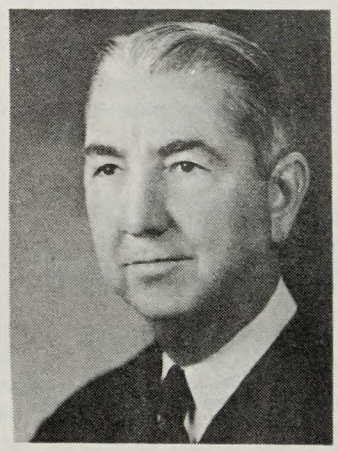
Tom Clark, Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, will be the keynote speaker. He will present two addresses on "The Church and the State--Its History and Relationship."

ALSO HIGHLIGHTING the two-day session will be a dialogue between an educator and a theologian.

Fourth major speaker will be Dr. John H. Haefner, professor of Social Studies Education and Head of Social Studies at University High School, State University of Iowa, Iowa City. His address is "Meeting Controversial Issues in the Classroom."

"The Crucible," a play by Arthur Miller which portrays a time when religion and government were combined to impose conformity on the consciences of men, will be presented by the Wartburg Theatre on Wednesday evening for visitors at the conference.

TWO PANELS ARE also scheduled. The first will be a response to Justice Clark's two addresses, and the second a response to Dr. Haefner's presentation.



Justice Tom Clark

The conference, set up because Wartburg felt a need for bringing responsible people of the church and public school together to discuss common concerns, has three goals.

It is planned, first, to present nationally recognized authorities in the field of jurisprudence, philosophy of education and theology who can expose the issues involved.

SECONDLY, IT WILL provide an atmosphere of cordiality in which clergy and public school administrators can meet and share problems. Thirdly, the conference will open up some practical areas and seek responsible ways for handling problems, such as classroom instruction touching upon religious issues.

Conference is open only to registered people, according to Pastor Herman Diers, chairman of the planning committee. Wartburg students and faculty are the only exceptions.

This is Wartburg's third in a series of conferences sponsored by the Department of Religion.

Convocation Will Deviate From Theme

Convocations this week will deviate from the convocation series theme.

An autobiographical color documentary film of Pablo Picasso will be the feature of Tuesday's convocation. Picturing the man, the artist and the pioneer, the film used 477 of Picasso's works to trace his career.

Justice Tom Clark, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, will speak in Thursday's convocation. His topic will continue the theme of the Fourth R Conference and is entitled "The Church and the State -- Its History and Relationship."

EDITORIAL

After Elections End

It would be interesting to find out how many inches of newsprint are used and how much money is spent during an election year for campaigning.

No doubt, the amount is staggering. Besides advertising and other promotions, editors have written countless editorials and reporters have covered event after event in connection with the campaign.

Television and radio have devoted many hours worth of time to the election. In addition to all this, there are billboards, posters, pins, hats, dinners, elephants, donkeys, balloons, cars and babies, all endorsing their favorite candidate.

YES, ELECTION YEAR is an exciting and unique experience for everyone concerned.

Tuesday it will be all over. Most of us know what it's like to have a big event over. Remember what we felt like Monday after Homecoming? Imagine what it must be like for active participants in a campaign, especially the losing side!

But this whole matter should not and undoubtedly will not be taken in such a light-hearted vein. Some of us will be jubilant at the outcome of the election. Others will be disappointed and direly pessimistic.

TO SOME OF US, our country will inevitably fall to its doom with the election of the wrong man. Yet, eventually we must lose these feelings as we become united for one goal, that goal being democracy.

We've heard that saying about how it's not whether you win or lose, but how you play the game, many times in the past few weeks. Most ardent politicians will agree that it does matter whether we win or lose. But if we lose, the country will not be doomed to utter collapse.

Perhaps it is good to remember at the close of an election that we are still living in a democracy. Naturally, a leader is important -- very important.

BUT IT IS also important that no matter who holds the executive position in the country, all of us have responsibilities in the government. This is no time to sit back and pout because our man didn't get elected. That should be even more incentive for us to see that our ideas will be heard.

So, whether we've won or lost with our man, it's time to put away all those posters, pins, hats and grudges (it's okay to keep the babies) and unite under the common banner of freedom and democracy.

Philharmonic Wins Applause

BY RICHARD E. KOEHLER

One of Europe's leading orchestras made its first visit to the Wartburg community and won the applause of an audience of two thousand in Knights Gymnasium Sunday evening.

Led by the masterful dignity of Stanislaw Wislocki, the group boasted a well-coordinated string section. The brass and woodwinds also fulfilled their role with a great deal of finesse. The over-all effect was that of a well-trained group.

The beginning number was Berlioz's "Roman Carnival Overture." It displayed a fine English horn solo of classic beauty. This choice of a beginning was in good taste.

WANDA WILKOMIRSKA, a picture of devotional humility, made her appearance in the "Violin Concerto, Opus 8 by Karlowitz. This work required a great deal of fortitude and physical strength.

Of early 20th century Polish origin, the concerto contained the usual stereotyped passages of technique. This number, however, was not a true test of her maturity, but it did show Miss Wilkomirska as a promising violinist.

This number was excellently performed by all. The slow movement was the most effective, as it was filled with warmth. The fervor with which Miss Wilkomirska opened the number displayed well the difficulty of the three-stop beginning. The audience responded vigorously to this Polish violinist.

Climax of the evening was reached after intermission in Beethoven's Third Symphony (Eroica). The unusual aspect was that the trumpet parts were not taken in a higher range as is usually the custom. They were played as Beethoven wrote them. Later, in the third movement, Wislocki slowed the trio section, probably because of the difficulty of the second horn part.

ACOUSTICAL PROPERTIES of the performance area were not the best. It muffled the woodwind section. This was evident when the audience did not notice the beginning of the third movement of the Eroica. But if this is the only way we can hear a major symphony, then we shall have to take what we can get.

The easy - flowing, well-coordinated strings, along with a well-tempered master at the controls assures this group a successful tour of the United States.

President and Mrs. John W. Bachman chat with Stanislaw Wislocki, conductor of the Warsaw Philharmonic, and his wife. They were attending a reception held in Centennial Lounge Sunday night after the orchestra's performance.

Letter To The Editor

Bone Thanks Student Body

Dear Editor:

I wish to use this means to thank the entire student body for their cooperation, work and support on Homecoming. I cannot begin to thank individually the many people who had a part in preparing and carrying out Homecoming '64.

My general committee members I salute. The real credit goes to them, not me, for it was this group of 28 students who were primarily responsible for its over - all success. Many of them put in many more hours of work and planning than I did and deserve to be recognized for this.

I especially single out Dave Wegenast and Joyce Weidler, for without them plans would not have materialized. Wartburg owes them a great deal of thanks.

To the float chairmen, campus decoration chairmen, band, cheerleaders and class presidents go my thanks for the many hours of behind-the-scene work.

To Queen Marcia and her court go my congratulations. It would be wonderful if each of us could have the dignity and poise that these five possess.

The Administration, Faculty and Staff I thank for their cooperation and support extended to my general committee and me. A special thanks goes to President Bachman, Dean Oppermann, Mr. Gremmels and Mrs. Grube.

I considered Homecoming this year to be very much of a success and thank each of you who had a part.

Sincerely,
Bob Bone
General Homecoming Chairman

Folkerts' Folly

Study Warm-Up Viewed

BY JIM FOLKERTS

Wartburg's library is a fine institution, as are most of the individual organizations at Wartburg. However, it is too bad that all intelligent Wartburg students don't utilize this valuable information and learning center more effectively.

Perhaps the majority of the students do, but some do not, and they are the ones who make life around Wartburg interesting.

An interview with a Wartburg gunner gave this interesting account of his study methods:

FOLKERTS

A scheduled test is coming up the next day in one of his classes. This bothers him somewhat, especially the day before, and as he ponders the situation he decides it will be best to spend the evening in the library preparing for the forthcoming holocaust.

AFTER SUPPER that evening, being full and contented, he decides to stop at the lounge and the Den, usual early evening activities, to relax and let his stomach settle so that concentration can be achieved at the library.

As 7 o'clock approaches, and studies relentlessly call, the trek from the Union to the library becomes unavoidable.

In mounting the treacherous library steps, he sights a dear acquaintance and a 35 - minute discussion is held concerning the day's activities.

Proceeding through the doorway, the student decides that a cigarette break is needed before concentration can truly set in. However, during the process of smoking one cigarette, a friend enters, and as they chat, two more weeds bite the dust.

FINALLY, AFTER climbing a stairway clustered with friends and greeting each one for two or three minutes, the main floor is reached. The water cooler is next. Such thirst! The drink is a good long one, especially after waiting behind five or six other students.

The coat room is the next stop. A small gathering there detains our studious friend for only 15 minutes.

The periodicals room is crowded, but a newspaper and three magazines are read anyway, to the dismay of the other students there, because of the rustling and swishing pages.

In the lobby, while our student is heading for the main reading room, a fellow student checks on the forthcoming test, a roommate borrows a smoke and a stranger tries to borrow a dollar.

ONCE ENTERING the main room, after holding the door open for six minutes, our friend sits at the fullest table. Here he readily accepts an invitation to run out for a coke.

Upon returning, he eventually tracks down a reserved book that he needs to read for the test and is put 19th on the waiting list.

After observing everyone in the main room, he decides to check to see who else is in the library, so in a matter of 20 minutes the whole building is covered.

OF COURSE, now it's time for another cigarette break. Some serious meditation takes place during this interval, and it is decided he should hunt for a good place in the stacks for complete concentration. Only 15 minutes are needed to find an empty location.

After organizing, he lets true concentration finally set in, but only for 10 minutes because of the closing of the library.

Back at his room he again returns to his books. But his chair is so uncomfortable that he decides to lie on his bed and study. In 15 minutes he is sound asleep, thoroughly prepared for the fast approaching holocaust. (This little story can and does apply to the feminine gender, too.)

Student Learns, Travels During Year In Germany

"Learning and living with the German language, and meeting many people are some outstanding things I recall from my year," said Darlene Wesenberg, who spent last year as an exchange student at Bonn University, Bonn, Germany.

Darlene, better known as Lolly, had to prove her proficiency in language to a selecting committee of Wartburg faculty members before she was accepted as Wartburg's exchange student. A second test was taken at Bonn.

If she had failed the second one, she would have had to take a German course at the university for the first semester.

DURING THE WINTER semester, which runs from November to February there, Lolly lived with a German family, as did Wartburg's second exchange student, Sally Love, now Mrs. Herbert Bankstahl.

From May through July, the summer semester, she stayed in Dietrich Bonhoeffer House, a co-educational student residence sponsored by the Lutheran Church in Germany. She found dormitories in the German university cities to be quite unlike ours.

"One difference," explained Lolly, "is that no students are required to live on campus.

"THE UNIVERSITY remains the center of intellectual activities. There is no campus as we know it in America.

"Almost all students must find their own rooms with families in the city. There are not even enough dormitories for one-tenth of the students. Several must commute from neighboring villages.

"I don't like to generalize about a people. A year is not long enough to know a country," she replied when asked if she could characterize the German people. "One major difference is that they usually speak German to each other, and we usually speak English."

Senior Darlene Wesenberg spent last year at Bonn University as an exchange student. Serving as assistant director of the year's first play, she watches a rehearsal.

SHE ALSO COMMENTED on the distinct attitude of the German students toward their studies. Most of the real learning is done independently or in seminars in connection with the discussion and writing of research papers.

Educational experiences in German universities come not so much from lectures but more from independent study. This is probably due to the emphasis professors place on their own writing, which leads to lectures that are sometimes disorganized.

The university is so overcrowded that many students have to sit in the aisles of the lecture hall to hear the speaker.

STUDENT BODY elections are held every semester at the university. The student government does not participate in forming school policies; it serves primarily as an organ of communication between students and administration.

It also coordinates the various student activities, such as the Film Club, Foreign Students Club and the Student Travel Service.

"Every day between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m., students can be seen hurriedly walking to the Mensa. This is the student center. In the cafeteria one can buy lunch and supper for a mark (approximately 25¢). The lunch usually consists of many potatoes, soup, a vegetable and meat.

"IN THIS CENTER is also a student health service, headquarters for student government, showers, two practice rooms for piano and a large lounge," Lolly explained.

During the school vacations Lolly traveled quite a bit. In March, she went to Crete and Greece and stayed with a family in a village in Yugoslavia for a week. She lived in Vienna during April. Before flying home with a student flight from Luxemburg, she went to Paris for a month.

This year, as a senior, Lolly is student director of the play "The Crucible." She is majoring in English and German.

Two Seniors To Give Music Recitals Sun.

Music recitals will be presented tomorrow by senior music majors Beverly Stendel and Judy Lanaghan.

Miss Stendel, soprano, will present her senior recital at 2 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium. She will be assisted by senior George Curtis on the French horn and senior Judy Lanaghan, pianist.

She will begin her recital with "With Verdure Clad" and "On Mighty Pens." Both numbers are by Hayden from "The Creation."

MISS STENDEL and Curtis will present "Auf dem Strom, Op. 119" by Schubert. Following will be "Mi Chiamano Mimi" (La Boheme) by Puccini and "Laughing Song" (Die Fledermaus) by Strauss.

Other numbers include "Meeting at Night" by Dello Joio, "A Nun Takes the Veil" by Barber and "A Song of David, Ps. 120" by Rorem.

Concluding the program, Miss Stendel will sing Finzi's "Till Earth Outwears," which includes 'Let Me Enjoy the Earth,' 'In Years Defaced,' 'The Market Girl,' 'I Look Into My Glass,' 'It Never Looks Like Summer,' 'At a Lunar Eclipse,' and 'Life Laughs Onward.'

JUDY LANAGHAN will present her senior organ recital at 7:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts building. She will play "Fugue in C Major" (Jig Fugue) by Dietrich Buxtehude, "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor" by Bach, "Benedictus" by Max Reger and "Variation and Toccata on a National Air ("America")" by Norman Coke-Jephcott.

Miss Lanaghan will also play "Fantasie on a Sarum Plain-Song" by Frederick Marriott, "Allegro Vivace (Symphony I)" by Louis Vierne and "Choral in A Minor," by Caesar Franck.

Senate Approves Plans To Hold Student Body Project Nov. 15-21

Student Senate has approved plans to hold the Student Body Project campaign during the week of Nov. 15 - 21.

Bob Meeker, junior, is chairman of the project. Another election will be held in convo Thursday to determine the choice of projects.

In other Senate action, the Cotta House Constitution was approved. The Constitutions Committee stressed that an organization must have an up-to-date constitution before it can sponsor an activity or appear in the Fortress.

MODEL CLASS constitutions were also handed out to class presidents for acceptance by each class.

A student body meeting will be held Nov. 10. Aside from the regular business, a session on jazz appreciation will be held. Dr. James Fritschel, Music Department, will be on the program.

Six delegates were selected by the Senate to attend the Iowa Conference Student Government Conference at Luther College, Decorah, Nov. 7. Attending will be seniors Mike Becker, Dave Hutson, Dave Zimmerman, Roger Sherman, junior Bill Hamm and sophomore Larry Pleggenkuhle.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES Committee announced definite plans for a Senate-sponsored all-school Christmas party, to be held in the Union Dec. 12.

Little progress has been made on the extension of Den hours and the wearing of sports apparel in the cafeteria on Friday evening. The Student Welfare Committee is continuing to work on the matter.

Mrs. Loreen Grube, cafeteria manager, and Walter Fredrick, business manager, have been invited to the next Senate meeting to discuss the cafeteria situation.

Elect Union Members; Join Three Others

Newly elected Student Union Council members are juniors Bev Bomhoff, Marilee Neptun and Ron Kuehl. These three will join Lora Froehlich, Mary Coxey and Jay Kamrath on the council.

Faculty members include Thomas Klassen, Student Union director; Ray Norheim, student activities director; James Prouty; Mrs. Gloria Hansen; and Dr. Dean Zimmerman.

Recent duties of the council have involved furnishing the Student Union. The intention is to buy a large mural for the TV room and one for the Conference Room in the near future, according to council member Lora Froehlich.

Award-Winning Pianist To Play In Second Artist Series, Nov. 15

Award-winning pianist Ralph Votapek will appear in Wartburg's second Artist Series, scheduled for Nov. 15. Votapek, a 23 - year - old, is from Milwaukee, Wis.

Votapek has won many awards and competitions. His most recent triumph was winning first prize in the First International Van Cliburn Competition. The prize included a $10,000 check, a Carnegie Hall debut recital, a contract with famed impresario S. Hurok, an RCA Victor recording contract and much publicity.

THE PIANIST'S 1964-65 tour will be extensive. He will play 50 concerts in the United States alone, plus numerous appearances abroad.

He already has a far-ranging repertory, which includes 30 concerts and recital programs ranging through classical, romantic and modern music.

Working hard to extend his repertory, Votapek likes to schedule two four - hour practice sessions every day.

He has said, "I practically have to sneak home to Milwaukee at the crack of dawn, so that no one will know I'm there and I can get enough uninterrupted practice."

EVEN THE PROFESSIONALS have a memorization problem. Votapek has said, "I find that I don't learn and memorize as easily as I did when I was younger."

Votapek's future has been summed up by a colleague: "Ralph has the hands, the technique, musicality, modesty, ambition, determination and a passionate desire to get better and better. I'll bet you he'll make it."

Goldwater Wins Mock Election; 390 Ballots Cast

Results of Friday's mock election have been disclosed by Bob Braun, Senate Elections Committee. Braun emphasized that the results may not reveal the political leanings of the campus, since barely one-third of the student body voted.

The National Ticket was carried by Barry Goldwater and William Miller, Republicans, by a vote of 213 to 166 for Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey, Democrats.

Harold Hughes (Dem.) won the Iowa governor's race by a vote of 190 to 176 for Evan Hultman (Rep.).

Third District Congressional race was won by H. R. Gross (Rep.) over Stephen Peterson by a vote of 252 to 120.

Total number of ballots cast was 390; 378 were valid, and 12 were spoiled.

Practice Debate Competition With Upper Iowa Tuesday

Wartburg debaters will compete with Upper Iowa University, Fayette, in a practice debate on the Wartburg campus Tuesday. Beginning at 7:30 p.m. in both the Little Theater and Luther Hall, each participating team will debate two rounds of intercollegiate debate.

Proposition to be discussed is "Resolved, That the Federal Government should establish a national program of public works for the unemployed."

The debate was arranged through the cooperation of Donald Douglas, Wartburg debate coach, and Dr. Barry Alexander, director of forensics at Upper Iowa. Wartburg will be represented by eight teams, three in the senior division and five in the junior division.

Next weekend the Wartburg squad will participate in the fourth annual University of Chicago National Debate Tournament in Chicago.

Two Janitors Hired For Maintenance Dept.

Two new janitors were hired for the maintenance department last July. They are John Laube, who is in charge of Wartburg Hall and the Fine Arts building, and Glenn Fayram, who is an all-around custodian for the campus and asistant to Ed Fryk, head of the department.

Laube was with the Waverly-Shell Rock High School last year, and Fayram was previously with the Strawberry Point High School.

Film Series Begins Nov. 10; 'Lafayette' Is First of Five

"Lafayette" will be the first movie of the 1964-65 film series sponsored by the English Department. It will be presented Nov. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in the Chapel-auditorium.

This film is an elaborate biography of the Marquis de Lafayette, who came from France to aid the American Revolution and became a favorite of George Washington.

Climax of the film is the Battle of Yorktown where Lafayette and the French Lt. Gen. Rochambeau helped the American militia bring the war to a close by defeating the British army, commanded by General Cornwallis.

The outstanding cast, which includes Michel Le Royer, Jack Hawkins, Orson Wells and Vittorio de Sica interpret the many historical figures.

Other films are scheduled as follows: Dec. 1 -- "Requiem for a Heavyweight"; Feb. 2 -- "Crime and Punishment"; Feb. 23 -- "Othello"; and April 13 -- "Lady with the Day."

All freshmen are required to attend these films as a part of freshman English requirements, according to Dr. P. A. Kildahl, English Department. Tickets are 35 cents each.

Movie Tonight

"Experiment in Terror," starring Lee Remick and Stephanie Powers, will be shown tonight at 7:30 in the Chapel-auditorium. Admission for the movie, which is sponsored by Mission Fellowship, is 35 cents.

Cheerleaders Show Spirit Ask Students For Support

BY JACK EDEN

The group which probably works harder than any other to win a game, except of course the team, consists of five Wartburg cheerleaders plus one.

The "Knighties" practice at least twice a week and are busy at every home game trying to keep up the spirit of the students and team.

Margaret Freeland, a junior from Cambridge, is captain of the group. Marg is a student senator, is on the Public Relations Committee and is an elementary education major. Eventually she plans to go into some type of special education, such as speech correction.

WHILE TALKING ABOUT her job as cheerleader, she said, "I feel that if we give the team proper backing and show good spirit, it can help them tremendously by showing that we're behind them whether they're winning or losing."

"I think it was really great that the students welcomed the team the way they did after the victory over William Penn," commented Sue Hendrickson, a sophomore "Knightie" from Albert Lea, Minn.

Sue is an elementary education major. She is presently treasurer of Pi Sigma and a member of the Women's Athletic Association and the Physical Education Club.

INNOVATIONS in cheerleading have been made this year, according to sophomore Jane Barnard, from Waverly. Jane was a freshman cheerleader along with Sue Hendrickson and Marlene Stroh.

"The cheerleaders themselves are very enthusiastic, especially about new yells that we are going to try," she said.

Barb Matthias, a senior from Pomona, Calif., was last year's Snow Weekend queen and in this year's Homecoming court. She is Student Body Secretary and belongs to WAA and Business Student Association. Barb is a business education major.

"MY MOST rewarding experiences in cheerleading are when we play Luther, because the students always seem to muster up so much enthusiasm," said Barb.

It takes more than a good football team to win a game, according to Cheryl Sorensen, a senior from Oelwein. She had this to say: "I feel that this year, as in any year, the football boys really need the support of the student body.

"With everyone yelling, we're bound to win, but it is up to the student body and the players combined--together we'll stand, divided we'll fall!"

CHERYL BELONGS to P. E. Club, Student Education Association and WAA. She is a physical education major and plans to teach in high school after graduation.

Barb Bischoff is a senior from Council Bluffs. She is a member of SEA and has just completed student teaching at St. Paul's Christian Day School. She is an elementary education major and was secretary of last year's junior class.

Giving her reactions about the school's lagging spirit, she said, "Let's not let the guys down. A little support from those not doing the work isn't much to ask. Let's really let the guys know we're behind them all the way."

Sophomore Marlene Stroh, reserve "Knightie," belongs to WAA, P.E. Club, Passavants and Pi Sigma. She takes over when one of the regular cheerleaders is unable to cheer and she attends all practices.

Off-Campus Faces Alpha, But Fail To Pull Big Upset

BY ED ROACH

North Hall and Alpha - Married Men maintained their positions at the top of the intramural football standings during the week.

North Hall found its defense easy, winning by default. Alpha - Married Men found the going a bit rougher in their battle with Off-campus.

Vollmer ravaged Clinton I Tuesday to post a 20 - 6 win. John Mantey formed a passing combination with Gerald Baldner that contributed greatly to the results of the game. Lowell Syverson added a shocking 95-yard touchdown punt return to put Vollmer solidly in the lead.

Clinton I's only score came on a 6-yard end run by Mike Bailey. North Hall won by forfeit over one of the league's non-playing members, Grossmann III.

One of the most hotly contested matches of the season came Thursday between Alpha - Married Men and Off-campus. Alpha won 13 - 8. Alpha jumped off to an early lead as it scored on the first play from scrimmage, but the extra point attempt failed.

Off-campus threatened in the closing segment of the first half. It had the ball on the 10-yard line when the whistle blew. In the third quarter Off-campus managed to push across a score, but the extra point was not good. Alpha was caught for a safety two plays later to move Off-campus into the lead.

But Ron Nelson came right back with a touchdown run that gave Alpha the victory.

In the other game Cotta - Gamma - Grossmann Basement tied Clinton III 12 - 12.

Becker's Blunders

Top Teams Tangle Today

BY MIKE BECKER

This week, because of the extremely tired condition my body is in, I will proceed to quote some of our records in previous grid seasons. Bear with this column -- it might prove interesting.

--o--

Most points in a game -- 49 against Upper Iowa and Iowa Wesleyan

Most consecutive games won -- 12 in 1958-59

Most consecutive conference games won -- 17 in 1958-60

Fewest points by opponents, season -- 77 in 1958

BECKER

Lowest total rushing, opponent (game) -- minus 9 -- Dubuque in 1957

Total rushing game -- 205, Larry Raper in 1959

Total passing, season -- 772, Eldon Ott in 1962

Total passing, game -- 293, Rog Kittleson in 1963

Most passes received, season -- 31, Wendell Liemohn in 1953

Most passes received, game -- 9, Wendell Liemohn in 1953

Most points, season -- 72, Marv Ott in 1958

Most points, career -- 163, Marv Ott

Most points after touchdowns (seasons) -- 19, Dennis Krominga in 1958

Total offense, game -- 298, Roger Kittleson in 1963

Punting, season -- 52-38.3, Jim Pyle in 1962

There are some pretty good records there, along with some pretty poor ones.

--o--

The best game of the year in the Iowa Conference takes place this weekend. It involves the Upper Iowa Peacocks and the Central Flying Dutchmen. This is the battle for first place and should be a real hard-hitter, something we haven't seen too much of this year.

I will have to pick Upper Iowa by two touchdowns. I think that team is really going to be storming after the way Central slaughtered the Peacocks last year. Upper Iowa possesses one of the finest running attacks among small colleges in the nation and can pass ably when the need arises.

It also possesses three of the top scorers in the conference. Central owns the stingiest defense, however, and also has its scoring leader among the top.

--o--

We at Wartburg are fortunate in being able to see Central play here next weekend for Parents' Day. We'll test the boys from Pella and see if they really deserve to be up that high.

--o--

I-M's are still being played. I guess everybody must be afraid of North Hall -- it has had to play only one game so far this year.

I thought my 1-M ratings were getting more accurate, but some of the guys from Alpha have been kidding me about not putting them up closer to the top. Of course they have a little extra help over there that the rest of the houses can't count on all the time.

Harriers Run 2nd

BY DALE WEHLING

Wartburg's Cross - country team defeated Platteville, 16-39, at Platteville recently.

A strong finish helped Wartburg to win the first four places and completely dominate the meet. Wartburg was led by Gayle Fick, Jon Thieman, Jim Rasmuson and Arlyn Ristau.

Homecomers here were entertained by a cross-country quadrangular last Saturday as Central, William Penn, Winona State and Wartburg squared off at the Waverly Country Club.

WINONA STATE came out on top with a score of 32. Wartburg was 2nd with 40, Central was 3rd with 53 and William Penn was last with 105.

Jim Rasmuson paced the Knights as he finished 3rd with a time of 16:14. He was backed up by Jon Thieman, who finished 5th; Arlyn Ristau, 8th; Mike Hughes, 10th; Roger Stufflebeam, 14th; Gayle Fick, 16th; and Bruce Kettner 17th.

Coach John Kurtt said, "Wartburg could possibly have won if Gayle Fick had been in top form."

AN INJURED TENDON caused Fick to miss most of last week's practices, and this fact slowed him down considerably.

Wartburg's record thus far is 3 wins and 2 losses. The harriers have also placed 1st in a triangular and 2nd in a quadrangular.

Iowa Conference Cross - country meet will be held today at the Waverly Country Club.

Wartburg will be out to defend its title against the favored Luther squad.

Knights Take On Simpson Today; Air-Borne Spencer Tests Defense

BY BILL GLITZ

With the sting of last week's crushing Homecoming loss slowly wearing away, the Knights busily prepared themselves for Simpson in a homecoming game at Indianola today.

Today's game marks the third straight homecoming tilt for the Jo-men, as they have broken even in the other two "return of the alumni" games. Two weeks ago the Knights won their first game of the season, defeating William Penn in the Statesmen's homecoming. But last weekend was one which the Wartburg gridders would like to erase from memory.

Luther's big line pushed the Knights up and down the Schield Stadium terrain as the Norse romped to a 37-6 victory.

COACH NORM Johansen was terse but decisive in his comments on the game: "There's no question about that game. They just outplayed us in the line and outran us. Luther also showed us a fine sophomore quarterback. He's a good kid for just a sophomore."

Paul Zietlow hauled down two passes against Luther and inched his way within 11 receptions of the school record for individual pass receiving. Time is growing short for Zietlow, since there are only three games remaining. To break the old record, which was set by Wendell Liemohn in 1954, Ziet will have to average four receptions a ball game.

"Luther's secondary did a good job of covering Zietlow," Johansen pointed out. "The coverage that they did give to Ziet left Pusateri and Nielsen open more often, but we just couldn't hit them."

LOOKING TO TODAY'S game, one name, Tony Spencer, appears to head any mention of a Simpson football team. Wartburg fans can still recall the game against the Redmen here last year when Spencer passed Simpson to a come-from-behind victory over the Knights.

"Spencer is an outstanding quarterback; Simpson relies on him to a large extent. However, they also have a fine running attack which can't be sold short," Johansen said. "When I saw them play they ran the ball a great deal, but in the Upper Iowa game they passed 29 times. You really don't know what to expect."

Jerry Wonder, Luther's explosive fullback, is stopped by an unidentified Knight during last Saturday's Homecoming football game. Luther defeated the Knights, 37-6.

Wartburg's secondary has been getting valuable experience over the last several weeks. At times it has looked improved, at other times it has been porous. This predominantly freshman and sophomore group will have to come up with a supreme effort today if the Knights want to win.

SPENCER IS NOT only a good passer, but he is a veteran in the Simpson line-up. He'll probe for a weak spot, and once he finds it he'll keep at it until it's closed. He demonstrated against us last year that he can play well under pressure and can play well for 60 minutes.

Spencer might not throw the pass for a long time in a game, lulling the secondary into a false sence of security, and then he'll hit with it just when the Redmen need the big play. His winning 90-yard scoring pitch in the last quarter in 1963 demonstrates this fact only too well.

This game should be a tremendous test for the Knights' young secondary.

Next weekend the Knights return home for the final game at Schield Stadium as they take on the vaunted Flying Dutchmen from Central College. (KWAR-FM, 1:15)

Political Parties Discuss Government Philosophy

Democrats

BY RANDY MARSH

President Lyndon Johnson will strive to maintain without rupture the Democratic policies of the last 32 years, polices which are consistent with the earliest tradition of our country.

Senator Barry Goldwater charts a new course in a new sea for the Republican Party. Decline of the federal government and a return to international power politics in a nuclear age form the outline of his blueprint for America.

AMERICANS ARE indeed offered a choice. The choice is not only between men but between ideas.

Goldwater pursues his goal of decentralized government and federal economy with such energy that even vital programs are strangled, except when they benefit him, in which case he allows a momentary lapse from his principles.

Two key examples will suffice. Senator Goldwater, who professes to have a great love for and interest in the outdoors, voted against the Wilderness Bill twice. He opposed this simple bill for no other reason than blind reaction.

ON THE OTHER hand, although an outspoken foe of government spending and especially the TVA, Senator Goldwater co-sponsored in 1963 the billion-dollar Central Arizona Project that will place five dams and two power plants in Arizona. No other time has he voted in favor of any other public works projects or bills.

President Johnson has inherited a legacy of progress from President Kennedy. The accomplishments of their four years have often shown great leadership.

Republicans

BY JEAN BIERE

"This party, with its every action, every word, every breath and every heartbeat has but a single resolve -- Freedom." This statement from Barry Goldwater's Acceptance Address summarizes the Republican philosophy of government.

The Republican Party is dedicated to individual initiative and freedom. We do not seek the gain of special groups, but seek a balance between the liberty of each and the needs of all.

We resist concentration of power in the federal government. Power should remain in the hands of the people. "Creeping socialism" must be stopped.

Republicans realize the greatest danger to our form of government is Communism. We want to see the Communist tide that overruns free nations pushed back.

Instead of listening to Communists brag, "We will bury you," we dare to stand up and say, "Someday your children will live under the scepter of freedom!"

We believe so strongly in the principles of freedom, individual initiative and capitalism that we want the light of American ideals to cast its glow around the world. Republicans want all peoples to know that liberty is the hope of the world.
